

MorphoTrust Releases New Version of Offender ID

Inmate Identification, Enrollment and Tracking Solution Adds Integration, Support and Security Features

June 4, 2013, Billerica, MA

MorphoTrust USA (Safran), a leading U.S. provider of identity solutions and services, recently released the newest version of its inmate identification, enrollment and tracking solution, Offender ID. Offender ID 3.1 offers new security features, including fingerprint and face biometric capture as well as searchable aliases. In addition, new integration and support features allow law enforcement to maximize current technology resources.

MorphoTrust™ Offender ID is an advanced inmate identity management and tracking system incorporating iris, fingerprint and facial recognition technology for fast and accurate identification. Critical processes, including booking and release, are quickly and securely executed preventing inmates from falsifying their identities, with no increase in staff. The solution integrates into an existing jail management or mug shot system, such as those provided by Morpho, or can operate as a standalone biometric and biographic repository. A complete offender identification process is available for operators to book and release subjects, create audit trails of subject enrollments and identifications, query records with text-based biographic searches and generate fully customizable reports.

“Accurate, efficient tracking of inmates helps prison officials protect the safety of their facilities and personnel, and prevents dangerous mistakes as inmates are moved and released,” said Bob Eckel, CEO of MorphoTrust. “The newest version of MorphoTrust Offender ID complements the live scan devices and other solutions available through Morpho, making these processes even safer and easier for agencies to implement.”

The Missouri Sheriffs’ Association (MSA) and the Missouri Police Chiefs Association are currently using MorphoTrust Offender ID in their statewide offender identification system. Booking, tracking and release of inmates now takes place in a context of statewide connectivity, so that agencies in each local jurisdiction have accurate and up-to-date information at all times about the true identity of offenders, their criminal history, their current status and their physical whereabouts as they make their way through the criminal justice system.

“Giving law enforcement the ability to access information in a timely manner is key to protecting officers on the street as well as the public they serve. If we cannot verify a criminal’s whereabouts, we cannot act,” said Mick Covington, executive director of the MSA. “As Missouri moves forward in coordinating affordable solutions for information sharing, we have identified MorphoTrust as the foundation upon which we can build and expand our ability to reach the ultimate goal of providing real-time information at the fingertips of officers on the street.”

MorphoTrust is a leading innovator in biometric technology, with over 15 years of experience deploying identity solutions for government and law enforcement agencies. The company offers a full suite of sophisticated criminal investigative products and solutions, with a deep expertise in biometric matching technology and forensic analysis to enable fast and accurate adjudication of suspects. MorphoTrust’s iris and facial biometric matching algorithms are the fastest and most accurate in the world, according to recent tests conducted by the National Institute of Standards and Technology, and MorphoTrust has delivered and implemented several of the largest facial recognition system deployments in the U.S., managing over 200 million images. Hundreds of crimes have been successfully solved by some of the largest public safety agencies in the U.S. using MorphoTrust’s leading ABIS® platform.
